SCHOOL INFORMATION

Le Bocage International School Mauritius

An established international school with a strong sense of purpose, community and place

Le Bocage International School (LBIS) is a well-established, not-for-profit international school located on the slopes of Mount Ory in Mauritius, offering breathtaking panoramic views across mountains, plains and the Indian Ocean. Centrally located on the island, the campus combines open green spaces with purpose-built facilities, creating an environment that is both inspiring and deeply conducive to learning.

Founded in 1990 as a small one-room schoolhouse, LBIS has grown steadily into a thriving international school serving approximately 800 students aged 11–18, representing around 30 nationalities. The school is operated by PROGOS, a non-profit organisation dedicated solely to the provision of high-quality English-medium international education.

Our educational philosophy

At the heart of Le Bocage International School is a clear commitment to intercultural understanding, ethical behaviour, personal commitment and mutual respect. The school seeks to meet the individual needs of a diverse student body while preparing young people to become responsible, caring and principled global citizens.

LBIS places strong emphasis on:

- High academic standards
- Student wellbeing and personal growth
- Service learning and community engagement
- Environmental responsibility and sustainability

Academic programmes

Le Bocage International School offers a broad and coherent international curriculum, including:

- International Baccalaureate Middle Years Programme (MYP)
- International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme (DP)
- International Baccalaureate Career-related Programme (CP)
- International General Certificate of Secondary Education (IGCSE)

The school is accredited by the Council of International Schools (CIS) and is a full member of the Association of International Schools in Africa (AISA).

More than 50% of graduating students achieve the IB Bilingual Diploma (English and French), and over 80% of graduates continue their studies overseas, reflecting both academic rigour and strong international orientation.

Campus and facilities

The LBIS campus comprises over 45 learning spaces, all within a fully wireless environment. Facilities include:

- Four science laboratories
- Two art studios
- A three-room Design & Technology learning area
- A large, purpose-built library
- A Performing Arts and Language Lab Block, housing a theatre, music room and recording studio
- A multi-purpose sports hall and auditorium with a 50-foot climbing wall, basketball, badminton and table-tennis courts
- Extensive outdoor facilities, including four football fields and hard-court areas
- On-site dining facilities

Teaching spaces are equipped with modern technology, including Apple TVs and large display screens, supporting innovative and engaging learning experiences.

Student life and enrichment

Students at Le Bocage International School benefit from a rich and varied co-curricular programme, including:

- Local and international sports
- Model United Nations
- Duke of Edinburgh's International Award
- Debate Club
- World Eco School initiatives
- National drama and theatre competitions
- STEM projects and competitions

Service learning is embedded across the school, with all students participating annually in meaningful local and international service opportunities.

Staff and professional culture

LBIS employs experienced educators from a range of professional backgrounds. Over 80% of teaching staff are Mauritian, complemented by international colleagues representing eight nationalities. The school values collaboration, professional growth and a shared commitment to continuous improvement.

Sustainability and future direction

Le Bocage International School has made a strong and visible commitment to sustainability. In 2022, the Board approved the 2023–2025 Strategic Action Plan, which includes the goal of working towards becoming a Net Zero School. Environmental responsibility, student voice and community engagement are central to this work.

As the school looks to the future, it remains focused on strengthening academic excellence, wellbeing, leadership capacity and long-term sustainability.
